STATEMENT OF PROBABLE CAUSE

The Complainant having reviewed the applicable reports believes the following facts to be true:

On March 4, 2017 at approximately 12:00 p.m., a rally in support of President Trump was held at the State Capitol, 75 Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Blvd., St. Paul, Ramsey County, MN. As the rally was starting, approximately 75-125 anti-Trump protesters gathered at Leif Erickson Park, just south of University Avenue and east of Rice Street, near the light rail station. As the counter-protesters gathered, St. Paul Police Commander David Mathison observed a small group standing or kneeling behind a nearby bush, putting on black clothing and covering their faces, then returning to the main group. Cmdr. Mathison took a photograph of this small group. St. Paul Police Senior Commander Steven Frazer, who was in command of the St. Paul Police detail assigned to the event, later described that this manner of dress was an indication of people who identify as anarchists and often commit criminal acts such as assaults, criminal damage to property, and riot at protest-related events. Sr. Cmdr. Frazer also noted that he had intelligence that anarchists were planning direct actions and violence against pro-Trump rallies on March 4th.

At approximately 12:15 p.m., the counter-protesters began to march toward the south side of the Capitol. Approximately ten minutes later, the counter-protesters arrived at the Capitol and entered the building. Officers observed that at least 5-7 of the counter-protesters were dressed all in black and had their faces covered with masks or black cloth. Some were also wearing goggles or other eye coverings. Capitol Security Officers monitoring video cameras also observed and recorded at least five individuals entering the Capitol who were dressed in black, with hoods over their heads, goggles covering their eyes, their faces covered with masks or black cloth, and carrying backpacks.

The counter-protesters began chanting, yelling, blowing whistles, using air horns, and confronting the Trump supporters. At approximately 12:30 p.m., Capitol Security Officers Roger Dirks and Doug Porath both saw smoke near the hallway north of the west steps. Security Officer Dirks described that a Trump supporter pointed out a person in all black with goggles on and stated that the person had thrown a smoke bomb. Security Officer Dirks attempted to detain the person by grabbing his or her arm, but he or she pulled away and was assisted by a shorter person who was also dressed in black and wore goggles. Security Officer Porath described approaching and seeing two of the people who were dressed all in black. The two people looked at each other then began to run.

Both security officers followed the two people dressed in black as they headed west toward the doors. As the security officers followed, another two people dressed in black with their faces covered ran by and joined the first two as they exited the building and began walking down the outside steps. A fifth person dressed in black with his or her face covered also walked past the two security officers as they came to the doors. That person joined the other four and they continued down the steps. All five headed in the direction of Leif Erickson Park. Two mounted police officers began to follow the five individuals and the security officers were notified by dispatch that the five were also being followed on camera.

Videos show much of the activity described by Security Officers Porath and Dirks. This includes a brief glimpse of the person who threw the smoke bomb into the crowd. The person was dressed completely in black, had a hood over his or her head, had goggles covering his or her eyes, and had a mask or other black material covering his or her face. The videos go on to show the shorter person described by Security Officer Dirks as helping the person who threw the smoke bomb, as well as at least one other person dressed all in black with his or her face covered. The witness is then seen pointing out several people dressed all in black and Security Officers Porath and Dirks following two of the people pointed out by the witness as they head outside. Video also shows the other three joining the first two as they leave the building and walk down the steps.

These five suspects concealed their identity throughout the event, and were not seen on camera, by officers, or by witnesses without the black clothing and their faces covered. Because of the chaotic circumstances and because the five suspects were concealing their identity, officers were unable to identify which of the five suspects had thrown the smoke bomb.

Mounted officers watched and cameras captured the five suspects as they walked down the steps and toward the park. The five suspects entered a parking lot near the park and hid behind a row of bushes. They then tried to change their appearance by doing things like taking off their black clothing, putting on different jackets or hats, and turning their clothing inside out. This is seen on video as well as by the mounted officers and by Sr. Cmdr. Frazer and Sergeant James Labarre, who were nearby in an unmarked vehicle. Sr. Cmdr. Frazer and Sgt. Labarre continued to watch as the five suspects began to walk toward the light rail station on University Avenue near Rice Street. Sr. Cmdr. Frazer and Sgt. Labarre pulled in front of them, got out of their vehicle in full uniform, and yelled, "stop, you are under arrest." The five suspects immediately scattered and began to run away.

Cmdr. Mathison saw one of the five suspects, later identified as Glenn Fredrick Kimball (dob 8-18-94), the defendant herein, throw some black clothing in a planter area, then run from officers chasing him. Mounted Police Officer Andrew Lewis saw the defendant slip through the officers and run southbound on Rice Street. The defendant attempted to get on a Metro Transit bus but the driver apparently refused him entrance. The defendant looked over his shoulder toward the officers and continued to run around the back of the bus and then westbound across Rice Street. Officer Lewis pursued the defendant and quickly caught up to him in the parking lot on the west side of Rice Street. Officer Lewis yelled for the defendant to stop and get on the ground. The defendant paused, complied with the instruction, and was arrested.
