Dislocated Worker/WIOA Adult Program

Request for Training Funds to Upgrade Skills*

As an enrolled participant in the Workforce Solutions' Dislocated Worker/WIOA Adult Program you may be eligible for retraining funds. Training needs vary: some participants need only a few classes to update their skills; others need to retrain for a new career.

Since the goal of the Dislocated Worker/WIOA Adult Program is to obtain employment, requests for funds are reviewed by counselors and management staff. Each request is reviewed to ensure the funds go to participants who need retraining to become re-employed. This process also verifies that participants have chosen careers with good job markets and adequate wages. The training proposal may not be approved if these conditions are not met.

PREPARE PROPOSAL FOR TRAINING FUNDS

You will need to make a written request for retraining funds. Your plan will then be reviewed by a team of Dislocated Worker/WIOA Adult counselors and possibly the supervisor. The proposal can be a couple of paragraphs or pages, but it must contain specific information. Page two outlines tips to help you write your plan.

TRAINING PROPOSAL IS REVIEWED

Your counselor will describe your plan and may be asked questions to determine the strength of your plan. Your counselor will then contact you to discuss the outcome.

RESPOND TO THE DECISION

- If your plan is approved, you need to prepare to start training. Your counselor will assist you with this process.
- If your plan is conditionally approved, you need to meet the conditions requested before you can start training. Your counselor may need to resubmit your plan.
- If your request was denied, you may create a new plan to be considered, find other ways to pay for the training, or decide to change career goals.

* Note: Retraining funds are limited by the annual budget. Workforce Solutions can not guarantee funding from year to year.
