Ramsey County Workforce Statistics Report

Year-End 2018

We're pleased to present our annual Workforce Statistics Year-end 2018 Report. This report provides a current snapshot of our organization's workforce of 3,804 full- and part-time employees as well as historical data. Ramsey County is the most diverse county in Minnesota and we strive to attract and maintain a high-performing workforce that is representative of the 540,000 residents and thousands of businesses and visitors we serve every day.

Each year we establish Strategic Priorities that guide the work across all our operational departments – from Public Works to Public Health, from Library to Social Services, from Community Corrections to Emergency Communications. This report reflects progress on three key current Strategic Priorities:

- Talent Attraction, Retention and Promotion.
- Inclusive, Effective and Meaningful Community Engagement.
- Advancing Racial and Health Equity in all Decision-Making.

By focusing on hiring, retaining and promoting top talent that is best prepared to serve and reflect the broader community, Ramsey County is meeting the needs of current and future residents while also building a dynamic, diverse and inclusive workforce. As the organization continues its talent attraction, retention and promotion efforts, the positive effects of this work move beyond traditional Human Resources measures -- community engagement improves, new and innovative priorities take shape, and community satisfaction in the work of the County increases.

Ramsey County is unwaveringly committed to equity and inclusion within all areas of its workforce. It is critical for the present and future of the organization that the county ensure that communities of color and other traditionally underrepresented communities are actively engaged in and benefit from future employment and service delivery opportunities. The Workforce Statistics Year-end 2018 Report demonstrates that the organization continues to make progress in advancing its commitment of becoming a more equitable and inclusive organization from leadership levels to front-line staff, while also highlighting that significant work remains in the years ahead.

Whether you're a resident, business representative, partner, employee or other Ramsey County stakeholder, thank you for taking time to learn more about Ramsey County, its employees and the collective talent that is contributing to building a community in which all are valued and thrive.

Sincerely,

Ryan T. O'Connor
Ramsey County Manager

A Message from Ramsey County Human Resources

We are pleased to present Ramsey County's annual Workforce Statistics Year-End 2018 Report. This report provides information about the diversity of the county's employees, management, and departments. This is the seventeenth year Ramsey County Human Resources has provided this detail and workforce planning tool.

As you consider this report, it is important to note that Ramsey is Minnesota's most densely populated county while also being the second most populous, most racially and ethnically diverse and smallest Minnesota county geographically.

Ramsey County continues to make important strides in making its workforce diverse and inclusive in order to best serve the county's constituency and continues its commitment to advancing racial equity. This report shares the county's progress toward these goals.

Ramsey County Human Resources brings the county's mission, vision and goals into focus daily through its strategic efforts around talent attraction, retention and promotion of a culturally competent workforce. These efforts aid in meeting the goals of enhancing access to opportunity and connections to employment, and to reflect the region and community in which the county resides.

As in past years, this report presents workforce statistics for all full and part-time employees in the county through the following lenses: Race & Ethnicity, Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO)-4 categories (i.e. specific to state and local government job categories), Gender and Generations, New Hires, Promotions and Separations. While the basis of this report is directly linked to EEOC reporting requirements, the county is committed to an inclusive environment for all employees.

In order to provide relevant statistical information as an employer, our workforce is compared to the most recent 2010 U.S. Census of Civilian Labor Force in both Ramsey County and the Minneapolis-Saint Paul Metropolitan Statistical Area, as well as the most recent data reported for Ramsey County in the Five-Year Estimates from the American Community Survey (2013-2017) U.S. Census Bureau for the general population and Ramsey County's civilian labor force.

Here are five significant findings in the Workforce Statistics Year-End 2018 Report:

Employees of Color: The percentage of employees of color in our workforce since year-end 2002 has more than doubled from 15.8 to 34.7 percent. Employees of color in our workforce exceed the demographics of both Ramsey County's residents who are 32.7 percent people of color and the American Community Survey (2013-2017) estimate which reports 31.8 percent of the civilian labor force are people of color.

The county hired 432 employees in 2018; people of color were hired at the same rate as last year (51 percent), resulting in 219 new employees of color this year compared to 235 last year. A review of promotions show 51 more promotions were awarded than last year. Of 363 promotions, 155 (43 percent) were employees of color compared to 144 (46 percent) last year. Of 422 voluntary and involuntary separations, 165 (39 percent) were employees of color compared to 133 (34 percent) last year, which is at a similar rate as recent years. Hiring people of color (219) continues to outpace the rate at which people of color separate (165) from the county. When combined, the county hired and promoted 374 people of color. See pages 7-9 and 10-19 for more detail.

Formal Leaders of Color: this segment of the workforce includes 579 directors, managers and supervisors. Formal leaders of color have continued to increase over the past four years, from 15 to 24 percent at year-end 2018. This reflects an increase of four percent over last year. It is our ongoing goal to increase diversity in this area. A subset of formal leaders of color is the smaller EEO-4 category of Officials and Administrators; which reflected 1.4 percent people of color at year-end 2001 and increased to 15.3 percent people of color at year-end 2018. See pages 11 and 21 for more detail.

Gender diversity: This component of the workforce is present throughout all levels and categories. Over 60 percent of our total workforce is female, an increase of 21 female employees over last year. Total female formal leaders increased from 47 to 51 percent this year in the following categories: directors increased by five percent to 55 percent; managers increased by seven percent to 54 percent; and supervisors increased by three percent to 49 percent female. Another view shows 54 percent of Officials and Administrators and over 69 percent of Professionals and Paraprofessionals are female, a gain of 2 and 13 percent respectively. See pages 14-17 and 21 for more detail.

Generational diversity: This component of the county's workforce is comprised of five generations for the second consecutive year. Employees in the Baby Boomer generation fell by three percent to 29 percent, while Generation X rose three percent to 46 percent, and Generation Y (Millennials) rose two percent to 46 percent of the workforce. In each of the last seven years, Generation X and Y consistently represent over 60 percent of the workforce. As a result, the average age of employees moved from 46 down to 45. These findings suggest a gradual demographic shift in the county's workforce toward a younger employee population may have begun. See page 20.

Turnover. This is a measure of the pace at which the county's workforce has left the organization. Of 3,804 full- and part-time employees, turnover was 11.1 percent compared to the ten-year average of 9.3 percent. Total separations were 422, or 30 more than last year. When retirees are removed from consideration, the turnover rate drops to 8 percent. See pages 17-19 for more detail.

As you read the Workforce Statistics Year-end 2018 Report, please note it is divided into two major sections:

- A countywide overview of Ramsey County as an employer, and
- A summary for each of the five Service Teams followed by detailed information reported by individual county departments.

A special thank you to Sandra Hokanson and Tina Javinsky for their continued creativity and hard work in developing and enhancing this report.

Thank you to all county departments and staff who foster a respectful, diverse and inclusive workforce every day. Through these efforts, we are able to attract, retain and promote a diverse and talented staff, making Ramsey County a welcoming place where employees can contribute, are valued and thrive. These efforts show our continued commitment to ensure Ramsey County is a county of excellence and recognized by current employees and talented job seekers as the premier public sector employer within the region.

Regards,

Gail Blackstone, Director

STATE OF MINNESOTA – A View of Ramsey County	106

As you review the following Countywide Overview, you will see that we have made steady progress in becoming a more diverse workplace since this annual report was initiated for year-end 2001. Ongoing efforts to attract, promote and retain an increasingly diverse workforce has a corresponding relationship to increased diversity of separations. We encourage you to review the information presented in this report within the context of both overall changes in the organization over the last seventeen years as well as on a year-by-year comparison.

The Countywide Overview section of this report summarizes both historical and current data of Ramsey County's full and part-time employees based on the EEO-4 categories prescribed by the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. These EEO-4 categories are described in general terms as: Race & Ethnicity, EEO-4 and Gender. We include generational information on page 20. Detailed data for the categories of New Hires, Promotions and Separations during 2018 are found on pages 15-19.

For ease of use, bar graphs provide comparisons of the county's workforce against the 2010 U.S. Census of Civilian Labor Force in both Ramsey County and in the Minneapolis-Saint Paul Metropolitan Statistical Area. Comparisons against the civilian labor force reported in the Five-Year Estimates from the American Community Survey (2013-2017) of the U.S. Census Bureau have also been made. The portion of our workforce comprised of employees of color since year-end 2002 has more than doubled from 15.8 to 34.7 percent. Employees of color in our workforce exceed the demographics of both Ramsey County's residents (32.7 percent) and Ramsey County's civilian labor force (31.8 percent) who are people of color, as reported by the American Community Survey, Five-Year Estimates (2013-2017). See pages 11, 12 and 14-17.

For your reference, a description of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEO)-4 Job Categories and the Ramsey County Job Titles in the "Officials and Administrators" category can be found in the Appendix on pages 103-104. Please note the historical and current data do not include intermittent employees, student workers, student interns or temporary staff.

Highlights of the Workforce Statistics Year-end 2018 Report– A Countywide Overview reflecting all county employees include:

- Employees of Color reflect nearly 35 percent of our workforce (65 percent are non-Hispanic white). The percentage of employees of color more than doubled from 15.8 to 34.7 percent over the past 17 years and has grown by five percent over the past two years alone. The percentage of Ramsey County employees of color continues to exceed the pace identified by the Five-Year Estimates from the American Community Survey (2013-2017) which reports 31.8 percent of the civilian labor force are people of color in Ramsey County. See pages 10-17.
- Formal Leaders of Color at the director, manager and supervisory levels have seen steady increases in representation over the past four years, from 15 percent at year-end 2015 to 24 percent at year end 2018 (an increase of 4 percentage points over last year alone). The county has made important strides in diversifying its formal leaders by gender, race and ethnicity. This is further illustrated by the steady progress reported in the Officials and Administrators EEO-4 category between years ending 2001 and 2018. At year-end 2001, Officials and Administrators of color represented 1.4 percent of our workforce and now represent 15.3 percent. Increasing the diversity in this area is an ongoing goal of Ramsey County. For additional information on diversity within leadership, see page 11.

- New Hires, Promotions and Separations by EEO-4 category during 2018 show the county hired 219 and promoted 154 people of color totaling 373. Hiring people of color continues to outpace those people of color who separated (165). When this information is considered together, it shows sustained progress in our efforts to hire, promote and retain employees of color. See pages 12-19 for more detail

A review of hiring shows the county hired 432 employees. People of color were hired at the same rate as last year (51 percent), resulting in 219 new employees of color this year compared to 235 last year. A ten-year comparison of New Hires of Color can be found on page 12. A review of the total applicant pool in 2018 shows approximately 5,000 more applications were received in the last year. Of 20,073 total applications received, 44 percent of all applicants eligible for hire were people of color. See pages 12-13 and 15 for more detail.

A review of promotions shows 51 more promotions than last year. Of all 363 promotions in 2018, 154 (43 percent) were to employees of color compared to 144 (46 percent) last year. See pages 13 and 16. The data also shows two-thirds of all promotions were in the EEO-4 categories of Paraprofessional and Professional. From a gender perspective, 61 percent of promotions were women and 39 percent were men. The average age of all employees promoted was 38 and ranged from 22 to 65.

- A review of separations shows that the combination of resignations and retirements were the dominant reason (85 percent) in 2018. In real terms, a total of 31 more separations occurred than last year. A closer look at the total of 422 voluntary and involuntary separations shows 165 (39 percent) were employees of color compared to 133 (33 percent) last year. This is at a similar percentage as recent years and slightly above the percentage of employees of color than the county as a whole (35 percent). Page 18 provides data on ten years of separations; the ten-year average separation rate of employees of color is 28 percent; the two-year average of separation by employees of color is 36.5 percent.

By all comparable measures, year-end 2018 separations of employees of color are higher than in past years. In real terms, of the 165 separations of employees of color, this includes 38 more than last year. Hiring people of color (219) continues to outpace the rate at which people of color separate (165) from the county. While ongoing efforts to attract, promote and retain an increasingly diverse workforce has a corresponding relationship to increased diversity of separations, continued attention will be given to the uptick in separations as part of the county's strategic priority around Talent Attraction, Retention and Promotion efforts. See pages 13 and 17-19 for more detail.

Separations include both voluntary and involuntary departures from employment. In 2018, 88 percent of all separations were voluntary and 12 percent were involuntary. In 2017, 84 percent were voluntary and 16 percent were involuntary. In real terms, the county hired 432 employees while 422 separated from employment. A closer look at separations show that one-third of all separations in 2018 and 2017 were from the EEO-4 Professionals category, which is the largest single EEO-4 category of county employees. See pages 13 and 17-19 for more detail.

From a generational standpoint, employees (excluding retirees) who separated from the county were an average age of 40, which falls within Generation X. The average age of all employees is 45, also within Generation X. The average age of retirees was 62, which falls within the Baby Boom generation.

- Voluntary separations include: resignations, retirements, presumed resignations, failure to return from leaves, deaths, and the completion of unclassified appointments. A total of 369 employees voluntarily left county employment in 2018 compared to 325 employees in 2017, or 55 and 46 percent respectively. See page 18.

- There were 125 employees retiring from the workforce in 2018, a total of 30 percent of all separations compared to the ten-year average of 34 percent. Of the 125 retirees in 2018, 35 were regular retirees (defined as age 65 or older), 75 were early retirees, and 15 retired under the phased retirement option (PRO). When compared to 2017, the percentage of regular retirees in 2018 declined by two-thirds, early retirees doubled and retirees using a PRO more than doubled. See page 19.

Involuntary separations include discharge, release during probation, or seasonal closure. A total of 53 employees involuntarily separated from county employment in 2018 as compared to 61 employees in 2017. With regard to those separating during probation, 24 of 38 (83 percent) were people of color compared to 28 of 45 (62 percent) last year. It is important to place this data in context: In total, there were fewer separations by people of color than last year at the same time the county hired 219 people of color. Continued attention will be given to separations as part of the county's strategic priority around Talent Attraction, Retention and Promotion efforts. See page 18.

- Turnover measures the pace at which employees separate from employment during a year (including retirees) compared to the total workforce. A turnover rate of approximately 10 percent is considered normal and healthy for an organization. In 2018 out of 3,804 full- and part-time employees, 422 employees separated from employment resulting in a turnover rate of 11.1 percent compared to the ten-year average of 9.3 percent. In 2017, the turnover rate was 10.3 percent, totaling 392 employees. The two-year average for turnover is 10.7 percent. In real terms, in 2018 there were 30 more separations from employment than in 2017; see page 19.

Retirees make up one-third of all separations, which is consistent with the ten-year average of retire separations. In comparison, there were eight fewer retirees than last year. When retirees are removed from the 2018 and 2017 turnover rates, the turnover rate is 8 and 7.1 percent, respectively.

- The percentage of Employees by Gender is 60 percent female and 40 percent male. Female employees in the county's workforce increased by 21 female employees over the prior year. The percentage of Ramsey County employees by gender is in line with the Five-Year Estimates from the American Community Survey (2013-2017) which reports 66.3 percent of the civilian labor force are female in Ramsey County. See page 21.

Our total female formal leaders increased from 47 to 51 percent in 2018 under the following categories: directors increased by five percent to 55 percent; managers increased by seven percent to 54 percent; and our supervisors increased by three percent to 49 percent female. Another view shows 54 percent of our Officials and Administrators and over 69 percent of our Professionals and Paraprofessionals are female, gains of two and thirteen percent respectively. Overall county hiring and retention data reflects gender diversity at all levels and in all departments. See pages 14-17 and 21 for more detail.

- Five Generations continue to be present in the county's workforce. Employees in the Baby Boomer generation decreased by three percent to 29 percent, while Generation X rose three percent to 46 percent, and Generation Y (Millennials) rose two percent to 46 percent of the workforce. In each of the last seven years, Generation X and Y consistently represent over 60 percent of our workforce and rose by four percent last year to reach 71 percent this year. As a result, the average age of employees moved from 46 down to 45. These findings continue to illustrate the continuing demographic shift in the county's workforce. See page 20.

Between the end of the Baby Boom and the beginning of Generation X, the average age of new hires was 36.7 years and a median age of 34. New hires ranged in age from 19 to 71.

The Workforce Statistics by Service Team and Department section of this report summarizes historical and current data by each team and department for all full and part-time Ramsey County employees by: Race & Ethnicity, EEO-4 categories, and Gender. Additional data also is provided by both service team and department for New Hires, Promotions and Separations on pages 26-37 and 39-101. The historical and current data do not include intermittent employees, student workers, student interns or temporary staff.

For your reference, a listing of the departments contained within each of the county's five service teams along with a description of the county's job titles in the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission EEO-4 Officials and Administrators category can be found in the Appendix on page 105.

Highlights of the Workforce Statistics Year-end 2018 Report by Service Team and Department include:

In the past year, the county hired 432 employees representing over 11 percent of the workforce. At year-end 2018, 35 percent of county employees are people of color and 65 percent are white. More than half -- or 219 (51 percent) -- of the county's 432 new hires and 154 (43 percent) of the county's 363 promotions were employees of color. Of the county's 422 separations from employment, 165 (39 percent) were employees of color. When considered together, this information demonstrates progress in attracting and promoting employees of color and a need to retain employees of color is in alignment with the Ramsey County's Talent Attraction, Retention and Promotion strategic goals.

The following summarizes our changing workforce as reflected in our service teams. See pages 26-37 for more detail.

Economic Growth and Community Investment (EGCI)

The six departments within EGCI represent 12 percent of the county's workforce; EGCI is the only service team which includes employees in all eight EEO-4 categories, the majority in the Professionals classification. Gender diversity in EGCI is split nearly evenly between women and men. Employees of color represent 20 percent of EGCI's workforce and 80 percent are non-Hispanic white. EGCI hired 33 (eight percent) of the county's total 432 new hires and 37 (10 percent) of 363 promotions countywide this year. Of these, 27 and 24 percent respectively were people of color. Of separations, the largest group came from the EEO-4 of Service & Maintenance employees (22 percent). Separations in EGCI totaled 45 employees (11 percent) of the total 422 countywide. Of EGCI separations, 27 percent were employees of color compared to 39 percent county wide. Overall, EGCI is nearly balanced from a gender perspective. EGCI hired and promoted 33 and 37 people of color, respectively; the retention rate of employees of color was 20 percent compared to the county retention rate of 35 percent for employees of color. See the Appendix for a listing of departments within EGCI.

Health and Wellness (H&W)

The seven departments within H&W represent 55 percent of the county's workforce; H&W is the most diverse by Race & Ethnicity of all the service teams, with nearly half of its employees in the EEO-4 Professionals category. H&W is one of two service teams with Gender diversity showing a significantly higher population of women (69 percent) than men (31 percent). Employees of color represent 44 percent of H&W's workforce and 56 percent are non-Hispanic white. H&W hired 252 (59 percent) of the county's total 432 new hires. H&W promoted 202 (56 percent) of 363 promotions countywide this year, which is the highest percentage of all the service teams. Of these, 63 percent of new hires and 54 percent of promotions were people of color. In line with the H&W's overall workforce, the largest group of separations came from the EEO-4 category of Professionals (39 percent). Separations in H&W totaled 261 employees (62 percent) of the total 422 countywide. Of H&W separations, 47 percent were employees of color compared to countywide separations of 39 percent. H&W experienced the highest rate of separations in the county as well as of all service teams. Overall, H&W is not well balanced from a gender perspective; it hired and promoted 252 and 202 people of color, respectively; and the retention rate for employees of color was the highest of the service teams at 44 percent compared to the county retention rate of 35 percent. See the Appendix for a listing of departments within H&W.

Information and Public Records (IPR)

The six departments within IPR represent 6 percent of the county's workforce with the majority of its positions in the two EEO-4 categories of Professionals and Administrative Support. Gender diversity in IPR is split nearly evenly between women and men. Employees of color represent 24 percent of IPR's workforce and 76 percent are non-Hispanic white. IPR hired 18 (four percent) of the county's total 432 new hires and 27 (eight percent) of 363 promotions countywide this year. Of these, 11 and 30 percent respectively, were people of color. Separations came from two EEO-4 categories and totaled 16 employees (four percent) of the total 422 countywide. Of IPR separations, four (25 percent) were employees of color. In comparison to the county as a whole, IPR employees of color separated at a rate of 25 percent compared to countywide separations occurring at a rate of 39 percent. Overall, IPR is well balanced from a gender perspective; it hired and promoted 18 and 27 people of color, respectively; IPR is one of two service teams whose retention rate of employees of color was at the lowest rate (25 percent) of all service teams as well as when compared to the county retention rate of 35 percent. See the Appendix for a listing of departments within IPR.

Safety and Justice (S&J)

The five departments within S&J represent 24 percent of the county's workforce, with the majority of its positions in the EEO-4 category of Protective Service. Gender diversity in S&J is evenly split between women and men. Employees of color represent 25 percent of S&J's workforce and 75 percent are non-Hispanic white. S&J hired 116 (27 percent) of the county's total 432 new hires and 87 (25 percent) of 363 promotions countywide this year. Of these, 37 and 25 percent respectively, were people of color. Separations came from the same EEO-4 category as noted above and totaled 83 employees (20 percent) of the total 422 countywide. Of S&J separations, 22 percent were employees of color who separated at the slowest rate of all service teams in the county. Overall: S&J is well balanced from a gender perspective; it hired and promoted 116 and 87 people of color, respectively; S&J is one of two service teams whose retention rate of employees of color was at the lowest rate (22 percent) of all service teams as well as when compared to the county retention rate of 35 percent. See the Appendix for a listing of departments within S&J.

Strategic Team (ST)

The four departments within the ST represent three percent of the county's workforce with the majority of its positions in the EEO-4 category of Professionals. The ST is one of two service teams with Gender diversity showing a significantly higher population of women (71 percent) than men (29 percent). Employees of color represent 32 percent of the ST's workforce and 68 percent are non-Hispanic white. The ST hired 10 (two percent) of the total 432 new hires and eight (two percent) of 363 promotions countywide this year. Of the five new hires and four promotions, 50 percent of each were people of color. Separations came from the same EEO-4 category as noted above and totaled 14 employees (three percent) of the total 422 countywide. Of the ST separations, 35 percent were employees of color. The ST was one of two service teams with employees of color separating at the highest rates. Overall, the ST is not balanced from a gender perspective; it hired and promoted 10 and 8 people of color, respectively; and the retention rate of employees of color was 35 percent, equal to the county retention rate of 35 percent. See the Appendix for a listing of departments within the ST.
