Number of buildings: Auditors should count all buildings that are part of the facility, whether inmates are formally allowed to enter them or not. In situations where temporary structures have been erected (e.g., tents) the auditor should use their discretion to determine whether to include the structure in the overall count of buildings. As a general rule, if a temporary structure is regularly or routinely used to hold or house inmates, or if the temporary structure is used to house or support operational functions for more than a short period of time (e.g., an emergency situation), it should be included in the overall count of buildings.	1
Number of inmate housing units: Enter 0 if the facility does not have discrete housing units. DOJ PREA Working Group FAQ on the definition of a housing unit: How is a "housing unit" defined for the purposes of the PREA Standards? The question has been raised in particular as it relates to facilities that have adjacent or interconnected units. The most common concept of a housing unit is architectural. The generally agreed-upon definition is a space that is enclosed by physical barriers accessed through one or more doors of various types, including commercial-grade swing doors, steel sliding doors, interlocking sally port doors, etc. In addition to the primary entrance and exit, additional doors are often included to meet life safety codes. The unit contains sleeping space, sanitary facilities (including toilets, lavatories, and showers), and a dayroom or leisure space in differing configurations. Many facilities are designed with modules or pods clustered around a control room. This multiple-pod design provides the facility with certain staff efficiencies and economies of scale. At the same time, the design affords the flexibility to separately house inmates of differing security levels, or who are grouped by some other operational or service scheme. Generally, the control room is enclosed by security glass, and in some cases, this allows inmates to see into neighboring pods. However, observation from one unit to another is usually limited by angled site lines. In some cases, the facility has prevented this entirely by installing one-way glass. Both the architectural design and functional use of these multiple pods indicate that they are managed as distinct housing units.	12

Audit Findings

Audit Narrative (including Audit Methodology)

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) on-site audit of the Ramsey County Correctional Facility (RCCF) located in Maplewood Minnesota was conducted July 22-23, 2020. Pre-Audit preparation included a thorough review of the Pre-Audit Questionnaire and all documentation and materials submitted by the facility. The documentation reviewed included, agency policies, procedures, forms, staff training record and curriculum, investigative reports, inmate retaliation logs, completed incident review documentation, samples of personal records, confirmation of background checks conducted every five years on staff and contractors, sample of inmate files, and inmate education materials and medical forms. A copy of the staff schedule and inmate roster were provided on the first day of the on-site audit. There were 70 inmates in-custody on the first day of the on-site audit. Concerns over the spread of the Coronavirus and a Statewide order issued by the Minnesota Governor to Stay-At-Home from March 27, 2020 – May 18, 2020 delayed the RCCF's PREA audit.

The audit notices were posted in visible areas throughout the facility 6 weeks before the audit and were still posted during the on-site audit. I did not receive any inmate correspondence throughout the audit process.

During the two days of the on-site audit, the auditor was provided a conference room to work and conduct confidential interviews with staff. Twelve formal personal interviews were conducted with facility staff representing all shifts. Five random staff members, two staff members who perform risk screenings, two intake staff, and three intermediate-or-higher level facility staff were interviewed. Personal interviews were conducted with the PREA Coordinator, PREA Compliance Manager, staff member charged with monitoring for retaliation, and a member of the incident review team. To minimize face to face contact, interview questions were sent in advance of the audit to the Agency Head, Director, investigator, two staff members charged with monitoring for retaliation, a mental health professional, and a medical professional. The answers to the interview questions sent in advance were consistent with information gathered during the on-site audit through staff and inmate interviews, the facility tour, and questions asked during the tour of the facility.

Confidential interviews with inmates were conducted in a large program room. Sixteen random inmates were interviewed which meets the minimum requirement for a jail population of 70. There were zero targeted inmates identified to interview during the on-site audit.

The RCCF reported seven allegations of substantiated, unsubstantiated, or unfounded reports of sexual abuse and sexual harassment. The RCCF employs 168 employees which include the Superintendent-Deputy Director of Facilities, Correctional Facility Superintendent (PREA Compliance Manager), Operations Manager, Men's Program Manager, Mental Health Supervisor, Women's Unit Manager, 6 Shift Lieutenants, 1 Relief Lieutenant, 1 Kitchen Lieutenant, full-time correctional officers, probation officers, counselors, medical and mental health professionals. Part-time correctional officers are used to fill open shifts as needed.

A facility tour was conducted by the Operations Manager and Shift Lieutenant. PREA Coordinator Marc Peterson and Carol Christopher the Training Coordinator for the Ramsey County Juvenile Detention Center joined us for the tour. All areas of the facility were toured which included (male and female admissions, control, laundry, medical, male, and female program areas, inmate library, male and female learning centers, staff breakroom, caseworkers – office suite and 10 housing areas). Two unoccupied housing units on the second floor that had been sanitized because of the Coronavirus were not toured. The auditor observed location of cameras, staff supervision of inmates, placement of posters, PREA information resources, and security monitoring. The auditor observed toilets and sinks in each cell and private showers located in each housing area. In the dormitory housing units, there were private individual toilets and showers adjacent to the dayroom. The auditor was given access to all areas of the facility and talked to staff and inmates informally during walk-throughs of the facility during the visit.

The Ramsey County Community Corrections Leadership has implemented a zero-tolerance policy for sexual abuse and sexual harassment and take every allegation seriously. Ramsey County Community Corrections is a progressive organization who invest in their employees through development of a staff training portal, professional development of employees and internal promotions.

Staff and inmates report feeling safe working and living in the RCCF. Staff and inmates feel safe working and living in the facility. Staff were friendly, helpful, and readily available for interviews and open to answering questions. Staff understood their responsibilities in preventing, detecting, reporting, and responding to sexual abuse and harassment in the facility. Leadership of Ramsey County Community Corrections are dedicated to continuous improvement, empowering staff, managing staffing levels and fostering a culture of zero-tolerance of sexual abuse and harassment of inmates. The Operations Manager, Shift Lieutenant, and PREA Coordinator were readily available during the on-site audit.

On April 30, 2017, the RCCF was found in compliance with the PREA standards.

During the past 12 months, the RCCF reported seven allegations of substantiated, unsubstantiated, or unfounded reports of sexual abuse and sexual harassment. There were seven individual inmate allegations of sexual harassment reported against 1 correctional officer. The administrative and criminal investigations continued after the correctional officer resigned from the RCCF. Investigative reports provided by the RCCF documented the thorough administrative investigations that were completed for each report. The information was forwarded to the Maplewood Police Department to conduct a criminal investigation. The final criminal investigation report provided to the RCCF was thorough and followed the requirements of Standard 115.21. The Maplewood Police Department submitted the investigation to the Ramsey County Attorney's Office who declined prosecution. The RCCF received 3 reports from inmates that they were sexually abused or sexually harassed in another facility. The RCCF provided completed Outside Agency PREA Incident Notification forms to verify notification was provided to the facility of the complaint.

Interviews with inmates confirmed they are provided PREA education and understood the agency's zero-tolerance policy. During the admission process inmates watch an orientation video and are given information on the agency's zero tolerance policy and how to report sexual abuse and harassment. Once an inmate is assigned to a housing unit and initially logs into the electronic kiosk the inmate is required to acknowledge they read and understand the PREA training. Inmates are required to acknowledge the PREA training every 30 days. Each housing unit has PREA information posted, PREA information on the kiosk, and handbook available to the inmates. Within 72 hours of admission a caseworker meets individually with the inmates to complete an orientation. Inmates are asked to sign a completion of orientation acknowledging receipt and understanding of the PREA training. Inmates interview reported feeling safe in the facility and believed that staff would respond to any report of sexual abuse or harassment.

Interviews with staff verified initial and ongoing PREA training. The responses to the questions were consistent and confirmed their knowledge of their responsibilities in detecting, preventing, reporting, and responding to sexual abuse and sexual harassment. Staff was able to articulate the different ways inmates and staff could report sexual abuse or sexual harassment and steps to follow if he/she were the first to respond to an incident. Staff expressed confidence that their administration takes all reports of sexual abuse and sexual harassment seriously and would investigate every allegation and would not tolerate any form of retaliation against staff or inmates. Staff reported feeling safe at work.

The RCCF has a signed Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Ramsey County Public Health Sexual Violence Services <https://www.ramseycounty.us/residents/health-medical/clinics-services/sos-sexual-violence-services> to provide emotional support and be a third-party reporter. This information was verified by an advocate. The RCCF has a MOU with Regions Hospital to provide community level care to inmate victims of sexual abuse. Sexual Violence Services and the SANE program at Regions Hospital work together. When a sexual assault victim arrives at the emergency department of Regions Hospital, a SANE nurse and advocate are automatically paged and respond to the hospital. The contact information for Sexual Violence Services is posted throughout the facility and states the calls are free and private.

After a review of documentation, information gathered during the on-site audit, and staff and inmate interviews, this auditor found the RCCF leadership to be progressive, well organized, innovative and promote a culture of zero-tolerance for sexual abuse and sexual harassment.

The officer posted in the control room 24/7 also monitors the cameras located throughout the facility.

The administrative offices, training room and conference room are located outside the secured perimeter of the jail.

The kitchen is managed by a Lieutenant who has been certified in the culinary field who supervises correctional staff and inmate workers. Inmates working in the kitchen are required to complete the culinary certificate program offered at the RCCF. Inmates are transported to the emergency department or specialty appointments for advanced or specialized medical treatment not available in the RCCF Clinic. The RCCF has separate contracts with a Medical Doctor and Dentist.

The RCCF has an outstanding Program Department that offers a variety of programs for inmates who want to get their GED, learn new skills, begin a recovery program, or explore their faith.

The programs are certified by Century College and taught by the learning center school instructors and correctional officers.

Library offers new and used books for inmates to read.

Religious services are offered on Sunday mornings and one-on-one counseling is available in multiple denominations and faiths to all inmates.

Recovery programs include Alcoholics Anonymous and other programs for inmates dealing with alcohol, drug, or other addictions.

The RCCF uses a video visitation system to accommodate visits between inmates and their friends and family which are recorded.

To be considered to volunteer in the facility the interested person is required to submit an on-line application, complete the on-line PREA training, read and review the Corrections' Department PREA policy and submit the volunteer PREA training confirmation form. A criminal background check through NCIC (Federal, State, and Predatory Offender data bases are checked) is completed.

To reduce the chance of spreading the Coronavirus, the RCCF suspended inmate visitation, inmate programs and volunteers entering the building.
