Adult Learning Styles and Preferences
Adult Learning Styles

Visual learners – Learn by seeing

Auditory learners – Learn by hearing

Kinesthetic/Tactile learners – Learn by Doing
Dominance-Influence-Steadiness-Conscientiousness (DISC)
1. Pair with a partner, someone with whom you don’t usually work.

2. Using the information about adult learning styles, create one activity that appeals to all three learning styles.

3. Practice facilitating the activity and be prepared to facilitate to the large group.

4. Observers: Be prepared to provide helpful feedback.
Adult Learning Preferences
Adults learn through doing

- Adult learning environments should be interactive
- Instruction should be “chunked”
- Use a mix of techniques
- Connect learning with “real life” experiences/challenges/opportunities
Bloom’s Taxonomy

A taxonomy for learning, teaching, and assessing: a revision of Bloom’s taxonomy of educational objectives, New York: Longman, c2001
Adults are problem solvers

- Resist the tendency to make trainings “prescribed”
- Incorporate opportunities for learners to test their new knowledge
Adult Learning Preferences

Adult learners need to understand “why.” If they understand “why,” it is much easier for them to do the “what.”

- Begin with the “why”
- Connect the “why” with organizational goals
- Make the “why” relevant to the learner
Adults prefer.....

Immediate application
- Make learning relatable & relevant
- Avoid “fillers”

To share their own experiences
- Diverse perspectives create richer learning environments
- Past experiences create the “scaffolding” for new learning
- Effective training facilitates this connection

To integrate new ideas
- Create opportunities for learners to make connections
- Create motivation for the adult learner
1. Look at the coaching skill that is written on the flip chart.

2. Using the Blooms Taxonomy pyramid, create a training technique or activity for one level of the pyramid.

3. Be prepared to share with the class.

Example:

Coaching Skill: powerful question

Pyramid Level 1 - Knowledge: state the definition

Pyramid Level 2 - Comprehension: explain powerful questions using your own word.
Productive Learning Environments
Creating a Supportive Environment

• Convey respect for individuals
• Demonstrate that you value the learning process
• Draw on previous experiences
Creating a Supportive Environment

• Always be courteous and patient
• Make an effort to get to know each participant and call them by name
• Use active listening
• Encourage participant interaction
• Make the learning environment as comfortable as possible
• Manage participants’ expectations
Classroom Management
Classroom Management Techniques

• Set “group agreements” or “rules” at the beginning of the class
• Manage time efficiently
• Model expected work behaviors
• “Tighten” activity time
• Responding to questions
• Manage challenging participants
Tips for Responding to Questions

• There are no “bad” questions

• Repeat questions for clarification

• Call on a participant – or pose the question to the group; Encourage other students to answer.

• Use questions to build interest or context

• Apply the 25/75 Rule

• Have them use their resources to find the answer

• Start a parking lot for questions that are not covered in class

• Do not let a question send you off the topic

Be flexible
If it seems many are confused, stop and teach the lesson another way.
Types of Challenging Participants & Strategies for Addressing Them

- Arguing
- Uninvolved or Shy
- Aggressive
- Complaining
- Disruptive/ Talking
- Attention Seeking
Best Practices in Engaging Adult Learners
Address Adult Learning Needs

• Show relevance to work and role
• Set personal goals and assist in reaching them
• Clarity of purpose
• Set specific action steps
• Incorporate active learning
• Make learning “task” oriented
Active Learning Techniques

• Encourage participation
• Eliminate unnecessary time fillers
• Balance lecture and discussion with skill and application exercises
• Design student centered curriculum
• Limit lecture-based training
• Use questions to engage the learner
• Use a variety of teaching methods
Provide Structured Learning Opportunities

• Empowers trainees to be self-directed learners

• Techniques to follow:
  1. Structured note-taking
  2. Problem-solving activities
  3. Brainstorming
  4. Progress logs
  5. Self evaluation or peer review
Provide Immediate Feedback

• Timely feedback leads to mastery
• Corrective feedback can reinforce learning
• Feedback can correct errors and reinforce important work behaviors
• Adult learners typically seek constructive feedback
Techniques for Delivering Feedback

- Self-feedback
- Peer feedback
- Trainer feedback
- Supervisory feedback
Delivering Coaching Training Practice
Delivering Coaching Training: Prep

Activity

• Break into small groups of 3-4

• Each group will receive a section of the Coaching Training Curriculum. Each member of the group will be assigned a specific number of slides from the curriculum that they will have to present to the larger training group

• Presenters: Discuss within your small groups any areas of challenge you have with delivering training. Using coaching techniques, help one another identify a SMART goal related to overcoming the challenge area
Delivering Coaching Training: Prep and Practice

• Reflect upon the concepts we covered today: learning styles, adult learning preferences, best practice ways adults like to learn, Blooms Taxonomy, classroom engagement, etc.

• Discuss strategies for incorporating as many of these concepts in your delivery. Write them down on your worksheet.

• Take turns practicing your presentation critique and provide feedback to one another.
Delivering Coaching Training: Observation and Feedback

- Observers: Use the “Coaching Practice Checklist” to write down the positive aspects of the delivery and the areas that could use improvement. Please complete one for each Presenter.

- Small Group Debrief: In your small groups share feedback forms. Reflect on the individual feedback you received. Celebrate what you did well and embrace the opportunity to develop in other areas.

- Large Group Debrief: Share your experience (“Ah Ha” moments) presenting, observing, giving and receiving feedback.

My Goal is: __________________________________________________________________________

Due Date: ___________________________

Check the goal and action steps against SMART criteria (all must be checked):
- [ ] Specific
- [ ] Measureable
- [ ] Attainable
- [ ] Relevant
- [ ] Time-Limited

Instructions: Once you develop your goal, identify the action steps that you will need to achieve along the way. Your action steps should also meet the SMART criteria.

Coaching Circle Facilitation Tips

As Coaching Circle facilitator, your role is to be neutral, objective, and keep the group on task.

• Use coaching techniques such as active listening, powerful questions, and summarizing to help you stay in your role.

• Bounce questions back to the group in order to refrain from giving advice.

• Encourage brainstorming as a way for the group to work through challenges and problem-solve.

• Look, listen and pay attention to group dynamics and non-verbal cues that might be sending a message or could disrupt the flow.

• Avoid supervisory or performance related conversations. They should be had conducted outside of the Coaching Circle.

• Use powerful questions to channel discussions in constructive directions.

Remember

Facilitate, don’t lead the sessions!
Coaching Circle Facilitation: Prep and Practice

Activity

- Break into small groups of 3-4
- Reflect upon the concepts we covered today: adult learning styles, learning preferences, best practices, Blooms Taxonomy, classroom engagement, etc.
- Consider the challenge areas observed or discussed in previous Coaching Circles.
- Identify strategies for addressing these challenges. The strategy can be an interactive activity ("real play", game or handout).
- Create the activity. Remember to incorporate the concepts from adult learning styles and Blooms taxonomy.
- Take turns practicing your presentation critique and provide feedback to one another.
Coaching Circle Facilitation: Presentation, Observation and Feedback

- Presentation: Each group will have the larger group participate in the activity.

- Observers: Use the “Coaching Checklist” the larger group will provide feedback about the activity. Be sure to write down the positive aspects of the delivery and the areas that could use improvement. Complete one for each presentation.

- Group Feedback: Share feedback. Reflect on the individual feedback you received. Celebrate what you did well and embrace the opportunity to develop in other areas.

- Group Debrief: Share your individual experience (“Ah Ha” moments) creating, observing, giving and receiving feedback.
